San Dimas Technology & Development Center has been asked to evaluate personal hydration systems for firefighters. We will evaluate a variety of systems during the 2007 fire season.

We would appreciate your feedback on the type of system you are using; how they work for you and what suggestions you have if we make recommendations for including different systems in the national cache system. Comments on the plastic bottles currently in use are welcome.

Please address any of the items below and include any additional remarks you feel are relevant.

Thanks for your time and support.
