NATIONAL WILDFIRE COORDINATING GROUP

Annual Meeting 2020

February 11 & 12
Jack Wilson Building
National Interagency Fire Center
Boise, Idaho

Established 1976

Message from the NWCG

Executive Board Chair

As we gather for the NWCG Annual Meeting, I want to take a moment to acknowledge the collateral nature of NWCG work and sincerely thank you for contributing to the greater inter-agency good.

Our work is complex, demanding, and meaningful which enables us to operate together using commonly agreed upon standards. Without these standards, working in an already complex environment would be chaotic and far more dangerous.

My hope for the next two days is to first develop and strengthen connections with your colleagues, the NWCG staff, and the Executive Board; and second to discover new insights for 2020 within NWCG.

So again, a sincere thanks on behalf of myself, the NWCG Executive Board, and NWCG staff to all of you who make up the 87 NWCG committees and subgroups and over 700 participants. Together we achieve the NWCG mission to enable interoperable wildland fire operations.

— Frank Guzman, NWCG Chair

NWCG 2020

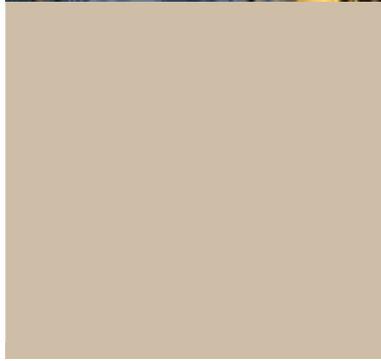

The work of ensuring that all NWCG activities contribute to safe, effective, and coordinated national inter-agency wildland fire operations bring us together.

The topics for this meeting center around the future of our interagency contributions to wildland fire. Providing a time and space for collaborative and innovative ideas to be heard.

In the fast changing environment of wildland fire operations it is crucial that we are contributing stewards to its resiliency.

“The vast possibilities of our great future will become realities only if we make ourselves responsible for that future.”

- Gifford Pinchot

SPEAKERS

“Those three things – autonomy, complexity, and a connection between effort and reward – are, most people will agree, the three qualities that work has to have if it is to be satisfying.”

“Truly successful decision-making relies on a balance between deliberate and instinctive thinking.”

— Malcolm Gladwell

Carol Barkes

Carol Barkes, CPM is a certified professional mediator, neuro peak performance specialist and best-selling author. She serves as the mediation services coordinator for the Idaho Fourth District Court, is a lecturer at Boise State teaching the first neuroscience courses taught at the university and runs a busy private practice both mediating and consulting. She has spoken at the United Nations and has been seen on Fox, NBC, ABC, CBS and has been featured in the Wall Street Journal and USA Today. From an education standpoint, Carol graduated summa cum laude from Jones International University with both a BBA in global leadership and influence and an MBA in negotiation and conflict management. She is currently pursuing her PhD through Grand Canyon University. Each week, Carol mediates and helps negotiate numerous cases making her one of the most active mediators within the state of Idaho. Her ability to convey information in a manner that is straight-forward, approachable and easily understandable makes her presentations relevant and engaging. _____PLACEHOLDER_____

“Risk is like fire: If controlled it will help you;
if uncontrolled it will rise up and destroy you.”

— Theodore Roosevelt

“My creed is that public service must be more than doing a job efficiently and honestly. It must be a complete dedication to the people and to the nation with full recognition that every human being is entitled to courtesy and consideration, that constructive criticism is not only to be expected but sought, that smears are not only to be expected but fought, that honor is to be earned, not bought.”

— Margaret Chase Smith
